

My Sundays

Sundays are my favourite day. I get up early the rest of the week but on Sundays I don't get up till 9 or 10. I quite often go away at weekends but if I'm at home, I like listening to the radio and phoning family who I haven't seen for a while. When I was a child my mum always cooked a roast lunch on Sunday, and if I'm not busy, I like cooking something nice and inviting people round to share it, though it doesn't have to be a roast. If it's good weather, I sometimes go for a walk with a friend and her dog. The dog's got so much energy that everyone we meet starts smiling. I also love Yorkshire Sculpture Park, near Wakefield, where you can walk for miles and enjoy seeing art in the middle of a field. On Sunday evenings I usually do boring things like cleaning and getting ready for Monday.
